

Medical Student Essay Prize

Are you a medical student considering a career in Clinical Neurophysiology or Neurosciences?

The British Society for Clinical Neurophysiology is offering a Medical Student Essay Prize, to raise awareness of the medical specialty of Clinical Neurophysiology.

This is an annual prize for submission by UK medical students for an essay on “How neurophysiology assisted in the diagnosis and/or management of a patient?”

- Cash prize of £500 paid direct to the student
- Max word count: 3000 words (excluding abstract, references, legends, figures or tables)
- Structure: Introduction, Methods, Neurophysiological methods, Results, Discussion, Conclusion, References.
- Language: English
- Submissions are considered from the first or lead author.

Deadline: 31 July 2026

For further information click here or go to <https://www.bscn.org.uk/content.aspx?Group=home&Page=whatwedo>